

Hall Eco-Rep Position Description

The Lehigh Eco-Rep Leadership Program fosters environmental responsibility by training student leaders to embody and promote sustainable living in residential halls and Greek houses. Through fun and educational events and operational and behavior change initiatives, Eco-Reps empower their fellow residents to take action to change their behaviors to live more sustainably.

Hall Eco-Reps serve in an introductory leadership role in residential halls only (not Greek houses) and are a vital member of the Eco-Rep Leadership Program. They are the operational eyes and ears of their hall and report waste, water, and energy issues that they find. They also put up signage and reminders throughout their hall and foster behavior change. Hall Eco-Reps work closely with their mentor, a Building Eco-Rep. Visit the Eco-Rep Leadership Program website to learn more about the program before applying.

Responsibilities

1. Peer-to-Peer Education: Hall Eco-Reps are expected to “walk the talk” and be role models for making sustainable choices to encourage environmentally responsible behaviors among peers. They are expected to serve as an eco-resource for their fellow residents if they have questions, notice issues, or have an innovative idea. Hall Eco-Reps also assist their Building Eco-Rep in planning and hosting 2 building events per semester.
2. Operational: Hall Eco-Reps serve as the operational eyes and ears on their hall and are responsible for several operational tasks. Each week, they must:
 - a. Check the waste and recycling closets for issues.
 - b. Monitor bathroom and kitchen areas for water leaks.
 - c. Look for energy issues such as lights being left on.
 - d. Ensure windows aren't being left open in the winter, etc.
 - e. Check the water bottle refill station counters to ensure they are working
3. Behavior Change: Hall Eco-Reps are responsible for being agents of powerful, positive change by fostering sustainable living and empowering their fellow residents to take action and change behaviors. To do this, Hall Eco-Reps are responsible for:
 - a. Putting up trash and recycling signage in the waste closets and ensuring the signage is always up, in a visible spot, and clean.
 - b. Tabling a couple times a semester to show, and explain to residents, what is and is not recyclable.
 - c. Hanging water and energy conservation reminders in bathroom, kitchen areas, and common spaces.
 - d. Performing Sustainable Living Program certifications.
 - e. Putting up Eco-Rep campus event posters and building event flyers on the hall and sending GroupMe messages to notify residents of the events.

In addition, Hall Eco-Reps must complete a behavior change personal challenge each month.

4. General Sustainability Support: Hall Eco-Reps are often called on to help support campus-wide sustainability initiatives and events. They are expected to sign up for shifts to help as needed. This includes, but is not limited to helping with:
 - a. Trash and recycling education in the halls during MOOV In
5. Measuring Impact: Hall Eco-Reps will perform waste audits and collect and analyze data with the support of their Building Eco-Rep.
6. Report Up: Hall Eco-Reps ensure the practices on their hall are consistent with campus expectations of environmental stewardship. They will report to a Building Eco-Rep and will meet with them biweekly (with the other Hall Eco-Reps in your group) to provide updates and discuss any issues that need to be addressed.
7. Meetings & Training: Hall Eco-Reps must attend all scheduled meetings and training sessions. These include:
 - a. Biweekly Eco-Rep Leadership Program meeting* (ATTEND)
 - b. Biweekly meeting with building level Eco-Rep (ATTEND)
 - c. Eco-Rep Leadership Program Training in August before the academic year begins*.
 - d. Present at the Eco-Rep Leadership Program end of year presentation to the heads of departments in late April/early May.

*Note: The time you spend in meetings where you are learning skills for your job are not considered part of your paid hours.
8. Perform other duties as assigned.

Qualifications

- Passionate about sustainability and desire to improve sustainability/eco-friendly behaviors in residential halls.
