ABOUT

We're entering our 16th season as Bethlehem's first and longest-running local, producer-only farmers' market!

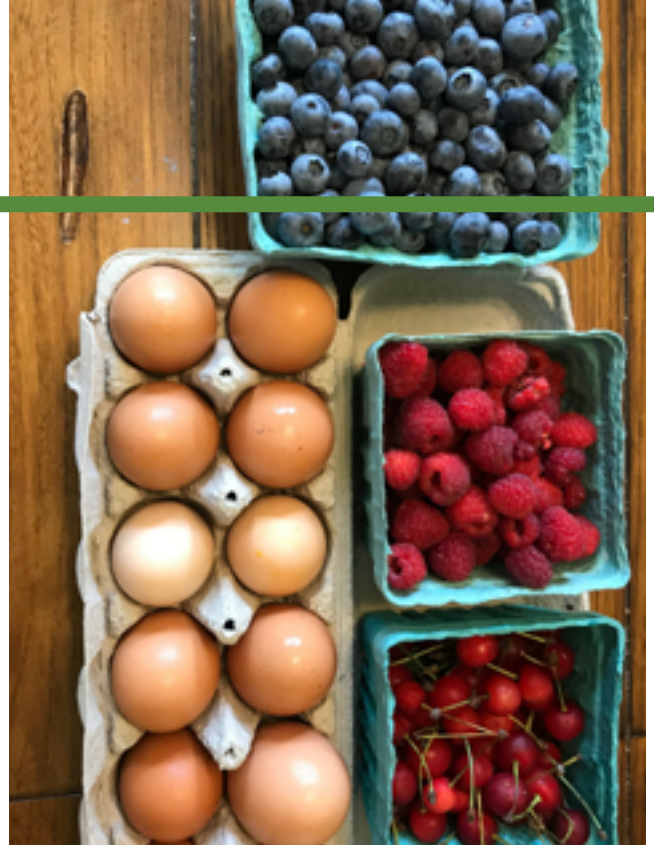

Bethlehem Farmers' Market, owned and managed by Lehigh University, operates as a non-profit, seasonal, community service for Southside Bethlehem that:

- addresses our community's food desert issue;
- offers a place for community engagement and interaction;
- educates the community about nutrition, agriculture, and sustainability;
- promotes non-profit and community partners;
- acts as an economic incubator for small businesses and farms in the Lehigh Valley.

FRESH.
LOCAL.
TOGETHER.

Bethlehem Farmers' Market happens 10 am-2 pm every Thursday from April 27 through November 9 at Farrington Square on New and Morton Streets in Southside Bethlehem.

As a proud member of Buy Fresh Buy Local of the Greater Lehigh Valley, we are a producer-only market. Our vendors come from around the local area, and they grow and/or make what they sell. Whenever possible, their products include locally sourced ingredients. We encourage vendors to accept payment via SNAP benefits and FMNP vouchers, and those who can, do!

Each season our 12+ vendors offer fresh, local vegetables, fruits, and other products, ranging from eggs and organic chicken to breads and pastries, vegetarian and vegan dishes, peanut butter, desserts, lunch items, flowers, personal care products, and more.

SAY YES TO FRESH

Sponsor dollars allow us to offer fee-free market spaces for vendors and community groups, to compensate our musicians, to pay City fees for our food truck vendors, and to bring educational and cultural activities to our market.
